ANNUAL SERVICE AT LITTLE FORK

Large Crowd in Attendance Upon Meeting at Historic Church.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Culpeper, Va., June 29.—The annual services, which are usually held on some fifth Sunday in the summer at the Little Fork Church, locally known as "Oak Shade," from the giant oaks which surround it, were held there today, and a large crowd was in attendance. Rev. Kenney Johns Hammond, of the Culpeper Episcopal Church, preached the morning sermon and Rev. Edwin S. Hinks, of Warrenton, preached this afternoon. A basket dinner was served on the grounds at intermission. This old church, which is the oldest building in all this section of Virginia, possesses an interesting history. It was first built about the year 1740, was destroyed by fire several years afterwards, and was rebuilt in 1772, two years before the Revolution. During the Civil War the benches and other church furniture was destroyed, but under the ministry here of the present Bishop of West Virginia, Dr. George Peterkin, the old church was refurbished in 1872, and has been used at intervals ever since.

was a member of the well-known James River family of that name, though prior to his coming to Culpeper two years ago, he had spent the last thirty years in Alabama. He is survived by his wife, who was Miss Carrie Snowden, of Halifax County, two brothers, William Selden, of Utah, Ala., and A. Armistead Selden, of Mitchell, and one sister, Mrs. Nelson, of Tate Springs, Tenn.

Struck by Lightning.

While Bernard Durrette, only son of J. B. Durrette, one of the most prominent farmers of the Standardsville neighborhood, was returning to the barn from the harvest field last Friday, he was struck by lightning and instantly killed. He was only twenty-one years of age, and a most promising young man. The funeral services were held Saturday evening, with interment in the old Durrette burying ground.

On the same evening that young Durrette was killed, lightning struck the barn and stable belonging to Dr. F. B. Twyman, burning both buildings to the ground. J. R. Amos, who was renting the two buildings, rescued one horse and a set of plow harness, but lost two fine horses, and almost all of his farming implements. The horses were insured for a small amount.

Bailey—Garrett.

Miss Martha Florence Garrett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Garrett, of Orange, and Norman Calvin Bailey, also of Orange, were married in the Methodist Church there Wednesday evening. The ceremony was performed by the pastor of the church, Rev. W. A. Orser, assisted by the Rev. R. F. Staples, pastor of the Baptist Church. Mrs. Robert Hundley, of Norfolk, a sister of the bride, was mattron of honor, and the groom's brother, Norris S. Bailey, was best man. Jube Rutherford, of Rappahannock, while looking at some cattle belonging to A. W. Clark, came across a snake den on a spur of the Blue Ridge known as Dicky Dear Den, and killed six rattlers and five copperheads on less than eight square feet of land. Several persons have been run away from that place by snakes in the last two years, and, unmolested, they seem to have grown and thrived.

Charles Edward Smith died at his home here Monday about 1 o'clock, after an illness of only two days, during which time his condition had not been considered critical until an hour before his death. Surviving him are four children: Lewis Smith, of Washington; Mrs. Clyde Lewis, Mrs. Samuel Booker and Edward Smith, Jr., of Culpeper; three sisters and three brothers, all of Culpeper.

Among the former V. M. I. cadets who attended the finals at Lexington last week was Superintendent of Schools James M. Beckham, who was one of the "Newmarket Cadets" who made that immortal charge during the sixties, and Rev. Arthur Gray, of Washington, Rappahannock, who attended the reunion of his class of forty years ago.

Mrs. Sallie Nalle, widow of Adjutant-General William Major Nalle, and Mr. Edward R. Searles, of Culpeper, were married in Washington on Saturday.

The handsome country estate near Rapidan, known as "The Breeze Place," which was sold about a year ago by the Breeze heirs to Mr. J. C. Seigel, of Harrisonburg, changed hands again last week, the new purchaser being C. J. Waugh, a business man of Orange.

While working on a new building being erected at Woodberry Forest, Carey Fox, a tinner of Culpeper, fell through a place of scaffolding a distance of ten feet to the ground, and sustained serious injuries to the head and face. His assistant, who was also on the scaffolding when it gave way, saved himself by clinging to a gutter until a ladder could be procured.

Mrs. Elizabeth Powell, his wife, aged seventy-three.
John Powell, son of Colonel Powell, aged thirty-six.

PULASKI BUILDS MORE GOOD ROADS

Preliminary Surveys Now Are Being Made in Dublin
District.

Pulaski, Va., June 29.—Representatives from the State Highway Commission are at work making the surveys of the roads in Dublin magisterial district of Pulaski County in preliminary arrangement for the beginning of the permanent improvements of the roads. The lines are being run and the grades established by four men of the engineering corps. Some months ago Dublin District, with the approval of the entire county, voted for a bond issue of $100,000 for the development of good roads in the district. Work thereon will begin as soon as the convicts have completed the roads in Pulaski District, which is practically winding up an expenditure of $75,000 on the building of good roads. Sentiment in the county seems strongly to favor good road improvement, and it is believed that by the time the Dublin District work is complete the remaining two districts, Hiwassee and Newbern, will have voted favorably to a bond issue for roads.

At a meeting of the Martin Land and Improvement Company, the local members of which have recently purchased all the holdings of George L. Carter therein, have elected the following officers to reorganize: R. L. Gardner, president; John H. Shuff, vice-president; J. F. Wyso, secretary and treasurer. Mr. Wyso was given the power of attorney to make sale of any of the property of the company, which recently has not been on the market.

The condition of Mrs. Kelley Kersay, the four-day bride who recently attempted suicide, indicates her recovery. The self-inflicted wounds are not so serious as they were at first supposed. The bullet, which penetrated her breast, did not penetrate the lungs, as evidenced by an absence of hemorrhage. Unless pneumonia or blood poisoning should develop, her recovery is assured.

Rev. W. W. Jones, Mrs. J. A. Flanagan from the Baptist Sunday school, and A. Taylor Martin have returned to Pulaski, Va., which was in session a portion of the past week.

New York, June 29.—July, as well as June, is to have an international contest in the form of a series of races for the canoe challenge cup, which is to the devotees of the tiny craft what America's cup is to the deep sea yachtsmen. These races, with a Canadian club in the role of challenger, will be held on Gravesend Bay July 11, 12 and 14, in case the struggle for the trophy goes to a three-race conclusion.

Barrington was the winner, and in his last attempt, in 1892, Ford Jones was beaten by T. S. Osholm. In 1895 Paul Butler defeated Charles E. Archibald, another Canadian, in the last race for the trophy. The present challenger is the Gananoque Canoe and Motorboat Club, of Gananoque, Ontario, Canada. The organization has nominated Ralph B. Britton, who last year won the championship of the Dominion during the A. C. A. meet at Sugar Island on the St. Lawrence, as the sailor to make the new try at cup lifting.

SHOOTING AFFRAY AT CAMP MEETING

George Baker, Wounded by Negro, Is Rushed to Hospital.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Pulaski, Va., June 29.—George Baker, a white man, of Wythe County, was shot this afternoon at a colored camp meeting at Draper by Charles Brown, colored. The bullet passed through his forehead. The wounded man was taken to a hospital at Roanoke. His wounds are considered serious.

Brown was arrested immediately, and is in the Pulaski jail. The trouble was the result of a trivial matter on the camp grounds, during which Baker shot the negro, causing a slight wound. Brown went to his home close by, got his pistol, returned and while two of his friends kept the crowd back shot Baker through the temple. The confederates escaped.

Considerable feeling exists over the shooting at Draper, which is a small town about five miles from Pulaski, where the negroes were having a big dedication and camp meeting today.

VALE'S RECORD BEING DISPUTED

New York, June 29.—The statement that the seventeen consecutive victories of the Yale baseball team during the recent college baseball season is an American record is being disputed in several quarters. With the exception of Parke Davis, the Princeton University athlete, statistician, however, shows that Yale at best simply tied a record made by the Princeton nine in 1897, when the Tigers reeled off seventeen straight victories, beginning on April 17 and finishing on May 28 of the year 1897. During the run of wins the Tigers defeated Cornell twice, Georgetown three times, Virginia twice and Harvard, Brown, Lafayette, Chicago, Pennsylvania State and other college nines at least once.
